NEXT STOP THE FUTURE!

Robot cabs, floating islands, a semi-tropical climate... What's in store for London?

LONDON ART FAIR

Once the dowdy elder cousin of fairs like Frieze, the LAF has got its mojo back in recent years and now makes for a cracking one-stop shop for modern and contemporary international art - even if you're just browsing. Here are five highlights

EXCLUSIVE!
Save 40% on London Art Fair tickets at timeout.com/tickets

Main Fair
This is where to head if you're after a modern masterpiece by the likes of Joan Miró, Alan Davie or Atsuko Tanaka from established galleries such as Austin/Desmond and Art First. Also look out for the fresh-faced fare on offer at younger spaces such as Charlie Smith.

Art Projects
Away from the main fair stands, Art Projects offers a showcase of curated contemporary art ('My Two Art Employees' by Lucie Fontaine, pictured) including installations and film screenings.

Photo50

The Hepworth Wakefield
Every year, the fair works with a museum partner. This year Yorkshire's stunning Hepworth Wakefield is bringing major works by big-league Brit modernists Barbara Hepworth and Henry Moore ('Pitboys at Pithead' 1942, pictured).

The Catlin Guide
Launching at the fair, the latest Catlin Guide (£12.99) gives you the lowdown on 40 of the most exciting recent art graduates and postgraduates ('Explorer' by Ophelia Finke, pictured). Work by the featured artists will be on show.

London Art Fair is at the Business Design Centre, N1.
Wed Jan 15 ▶ Sun Jan 19. Tickets £12-£17.
